

ABSTRACT

This research aims to examine empirically about the effect of management accounting information system and budget participation on managerial performance to PT Dirgantara Indonesia.

This research is descriptive verification research with survey approach by using primary data. Population user the manager in PT Dirgantara Indonesia. For this research take a technique of Jenuh Sampling. There are 35 managers of sample. Statistical analysis on this research are multiple linear regression analysis, correlation, hypothesis, testing by using partial and simultaneous analysis, and coefficient of determination analysis by using ibm SPSS statistic program version 21.

Based on the result of this research is management accounting information system and budget participation have a significant effect on managerial performance.

Keywords : Management Accounting Information System, Budget Participation, and Managerial Performance