

ABTRACT

THE ROLE OF PARENTS IN FOSTERING THE CHARACTER OF THE CHILD

(Studi Deskriptif Analitis Kualitatif di Desa Karyasari Kecamatan Rengasdengklok

Kabupaten Karawang)

Since the establishment of the family through marriage some responsibility older people in acquiring teaching the child. Considering the son was the next generation and was the backbone of our nation country oil and to come, as early as possible children should be ever since insight think, skills, health, physical and spiritual, so soon became human having personality steady, independent and responsibilities.

As for the purpose of the research is to understand the extent of the role of older people in managing the character of a child in the village. Karyasari district. Rengasdengklok district. Karawang. The kind of research descriptive this is a qualitative. The data the research is parents and children aged 12-18. Techniques used in data collection the technique observation, interview, and documentation.

Research results obtained that, the role of older people in managing the character of a child are good category , proven in this study all roles as an indicator of success in the formation of the character of a child has been implemented the parents of them: infuse confidence , give a good example , pay attention , and giving supervision , all of which are within the scope of understanding, but there are still attitude less well done by children according to the writer because the influence of the neighborhood children play area and electronic media.

Keywords : The role of parents, The character of a child.