

ANALYSIS OF INTRINSIC ELEMENTS OF SHORT STORIES BULAN
SABIT BY HADI TRIMULYONO IN A COLLECTION OF SHORT STORIES IS AN EFFORT TO SELECT MATERIAL OF LITERATURE IN SECOND YEAR OF SENIOR HIGH SCHOOL

by

Liu Yixing

ABSTRACT

Short story teaching material that given by the teacher should be in accordance with the competence that will be given to the learners. One of the materials that given in short story learning is about the intrinsic element of the short story. The intrinsic element is the elements that build the literary work itself. This elements such as, not mention all just tell some like, themes, backgrounds, figures and characterizations, plot, point of view, and mandate. The problem analysis that researcher propose is whether intrinsic elements in the collection of short stories Bulan Sabit by Hadi Trimulyono can be used as teaching material for second year Senior High School students? The method that researcher used is descriptive method. The techniques researcher used in this research are literature study, documentation, and analytical. Based on the analysis, writer found that the result of the study of intrinsic elements of the collection of the short story Bulan Sabit by Hadi Trimulyono can be used as a learning material of literature in second year of Senior High School. This is based on the results of the analysis of the conformity of the intrinsic elements with the demands of the Curriculum 2013 which includes the suitability of aspects of KI and KD, material aspects, aspects of psychological development, and language aspects. Based on these facts, we found that the result of the study of intrinsic elements of the collection of the short story Bulan Sabit by Hadi Trimulyono can be used as a learning material of literature in second year of Senior High School.

Key words: analysis, intrinsic elements, short stories, teaching materials.