

ABSTRACT

This thesis which is entitled Effectiveness of Punishment in Improving Student's Discipline in participating the Civic Education Pasundan 3 Senior High School Bandung examines how punishment in improving Student's Discipline in participating the Civic Education.

The purposes of this thesis are (1) to know the form of punishment which are given by the teacher to students in improving student discipline (2) to know how propositions faced by teacher in giving punishment (3) to know the implementation which are given by teacher in order to increase the discipline of learners (4) to know the efforts were made by teachers in improving the discipline of students. This study used a qualitative approach (descriptive study in SMA Pasundan 3 Bandung). Data collection techniques used are observation, interview and documentation.

The results of this study show (1) there are students who chatted, did not collect the tasks on time, joking in class, not paying attention when the teacher is explaining, and asleep in class (2) the cause of the lack of student's disciplines in participating Civic Education at class X IPA 1 is the teaching method given is not in suitable with the talents and interests of students, and the lack of awareness of students to the rules of the lesson of Civic Education (3) efforts are made to improve the discipline of learners in civic Education are the provision of punishments and advice to students who violate during the lesson.

Keywords: Student's Discipline, Civic Education.