

ABSTRACT

The study is intended to determine the increase in the values of martial state participant students through activities extracurricular scout at SMPN 1 Tirtamulya . The focus of research this is how the values to defend the country that are in the implementation of activities extracurricular scout at SMPN 1 Tirtamulya , as well as the effectiveness of the activities of extracurricular scout the increasing values of martial state participant students . The method of research is using approach qualitative with the design of research studies the case . Data collection techniques are done through observation , interviews , and study documentation . Results of the study showed that : (1) The program of work are contained in activity Scout extracurricular contained state defending values . One of them is the activities the camp which makes the participant students more love nature , self-contained , compact , disciplined , responsible accountable , believe themselves , to preserve the culture and life of the nation and state . (2). The contribution of PPKn in increasing the values of defending the country is as a gateway to instill values . Without their learning are good through PPKn then not be formed participant students who have the attitude to defend the country . PPKn an eye subjects that major in teaching martial state to the participant students . The relationship between activity Extracurricular and activities learning PPKn very closely and as a component that will be one of unity in the growing and increasing values of martial state generation of youth , especially in the environment of the school that will have an impact in the life of nation and state participant students .

Keywords: Scout , values to defend the country , participants learners