ABSTRACT

Poetry is a form of literary work created by poets using distinctive language and writing patterns. Poetry in its formation is inseparable from the elements of its formation which are bound and related. The problem in this research is how the intrinsic elements of poetry in WS Rendra's poetry collection and how the teaching materials are used as an alternative to learning literary appreciation in schools. Based on this, the writer is interested in conducting research to analyze the intrinsic elements in the collection of Poems of Love by WS Rendra as an alternative in choosing teaching materials for literary appreciation in schools. The author formulates the problems in the research, namely: 1) What is the intrinsic element in the collection of Love Poems by WS Rendra ?; 2) Can the results of the research be used as an alternative in choosing teaching materials for literary appreciation in class X SMA? The author in this study uses descriptive qualitative methods and descriptive-qualitative techniques which include documenting, reading, classifying, describing and presenting data in accordance with the results of the analysis. The author uses data sources, namely a collection of poetry poems by WS Rendra of Love which is divided into 24 poems at the first puberty, 3 poems at the second puberty, and 3 poems at the third puberty. The findings show that in the collection of Love Poems by WS Rendra, first puberty intrinsic elements of 4 themes, 4 feelings, 4 notes, and 4 messages. Second puberty intrinsic elements of 2 theme, 2 feelings, 2 note, and 2 messages. Three puberty intrinsic elements of 1 theme, 1 feelings, 2 note, and 1 messages. Based on this, the authors conclude that the intrinsic elements of the theme, feelings, tone, and mandate in the collection of Love Poems by WS Rendra can be used as an alternative in selecting literary appreciation teaching materials in class X SMA.
