

THE LEARNING TO WRITE FABLE TEXT USING ANIMATION FILM MEDIA THROUGH ZOOM MEETING ONLINE MODE FOR VII CLASS STUDENTS OF SMP PASUNDAN 3 BANDUNG, ACADEMIC YEAR 2020/2021

ABSTRACT

The phenomenon in which students performed low writing skills especially in writing fable texts motivates the writer to explore it deeper. Such low ability is due to educators' lack of utilizing technology during learning process and the less varied use of learning media. Therefore, it requires that students develop their ideas of using animated film media. This study aims at determining the author's ability to plan, implement, and evaluate learning to write fable texts using animated film media; finding out the ability of the experimental class students in learning to write fable text using animated film media compared to the control class using image media; finding out the effectiveness of animated film media used in learning to write fable texts compared to image media; finding out learning outcomes of experimental class students in learning to write fable texts using animated film media compared to control classes using image media. The research method used is a quantitative experiment with a quasi-experimental design. The results of the study find out that the author is able to plan learning by obtaining a score of 3.3 in the good category, and able to implement and evaluate learning by obtaining a score of 3.4 in the good category. The ability of the experimental class students was higher than the control class with an average pretest result of  $37.25 > 22.50$  and an average posttest result of  $91.00 > 77.75$ . Animated film media is effectively used in the experimental class compared to image media in the control class. This is evidenced in the Mann-Whitney Test (Gain) which proves the significance result of 0.000. If the value of sig 0.000 < 0.05, then the hypothesis is accepted. Based on these results, the author conclude that the animated film media was effectively used in learning to write fable texts through the online mode of zoom meeting.

Keywords: Writing, fable text, animated film media, and Zoom Meeting.