

ANALYSIS OF THE USE OF GOOGLE CLASSROOM ON STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES IN ELEMENTARY SCHOOL

(Qualitative Descriptive Analysis with Literature Study Techniques)

By

Nurainna Lasmianna

175060085

ABSTRACT

Google Classroom is one of the most popular platforms today to use when doing online learning in current circumstances. This study aims to analyze learning outcomes using google classroom media in elementary schools. The research was conducted using a qualitative approach. The type of research used is literature or literature study using the documentation method. The data collection techniques used in this research are organizing, editing, finding. For data analysis using deductive techniques. The results of the study based on the results of the discussions that have been carried out by the research, it can be concluded that learning outcomes using google classroom media in elementary schools can facilitate learning that is currently being carried out, the use of google classroom can also improve learning outcomes, because in the google classroom application has several features that can help and facilitate online learning, the use of google classroom is also one of the ways to save on collecting assignments carried out by students, because usually students collect by paper, if this is done by sending online with google classroom.

Keywords: Google Classroom, Learning Outcomes