TEACHING MATERIALS FOR LITERATURE APPRECIATION FOR CLASS VIII SMP

ABSTRACT

Students interest in learning about literary learning is still very low. One of the problems is that students still have difficulty in determining the elements contained in the drama script. These problems can be overcome by making interesting and appropriate teaching materials. Therefore, researchers are interested in conducting a study entitled "Analysis of Intrinsic and Extrinsic Elements of Drama Scripts for Candidates of Charcoal as an Alternative for Literary Appreciation Teaching Materials for Class VIII Junior High School". This study aims to determine the usefulness of the analysis of the intrinsic and extrinsic elements of the drama script as teaching material for appreciation of literature for class VIII in junior high school. This research method is qualitative. Research references were obtained from primary and secondary data. The data collection procedure was carried out through literature review, documentation, and analysis. The conclusion of this research is that the intrinsic elements contained in the drama script Calon Arang by Dolfri Inda Suri consist of themes, characters and characterizations, plot, dialogue, setting, and mandate. While the extrinsic elements consist of the author's personal life history, the life of the community where the work was created, and the values contained the literary work. The drama script of Calon Arang by Dolfri Inda Suri, which has been analyzed by researchers, can be used as an alternative teaching material for class VIII junior high school students. This is because the results obtained from the validation are 92 aspects of content assessment, 90 aspects of language assessment, 88 aspects of presentation assessment, and 91 aspects of graphic assessment. From the results of the assessment, it can be concluded that the results of the analysis of the Drama Script of Calon Arang by Dolfri Inda Suri are appropriate to be used as alternative teaching materials.
