ABSTRACT

*Understanding the interpretation of the author's views in the novels that are read is not easy to learn; even many students cannot interpret the author's intentions in the novels made by the author. Based on this, the authors conducted a study that aims to describe the intrinsic elements and didactic values in Adi Rustandi's novel Hadiah Kecil dari Tuhan and find out the suitability of the didactic value in Adi Rustandi's Hadiah Kecil dari Tuhan novel as an alternative teaching material in building the character of quality students. The research method used by the author is a descriptive qualitative approach. In this case, the author acts as a human instrument. The study results show that the most didactic values in the novel Hadiah Kecil dari Tuhan are the values of persistence and tenacity, which are 18 data. From these data, this novel contains positive values so that many examples of positive lessons can be used as life lessons for students. The LKPD compiled got a good validation score based on validation by two certified educators. Meanwhile, the results of the LKPD trial of ten students at SMAN 1 Margaasih showed that six students scored in the outstanding category, and four got good grades. Therefore, based on the analysis results in this study, the novel Hadiah Kecil dari Tuhan by Adi Rustandi can be used as an alternative literary material for class XII high school students.*
