Dear Editor
Academy of Strategic Management Journal

I read and use scientific articles published in the Academy of Strategic Management Journal.

The performance of the Academy of Strategic Management Journal was excellent, and the article published helped me in conducting research and writing scientific articles.

I am Munandi Saleh, Lecturer from Universitas Pasundan

I have completed a scientific article entitled "Capacity Building Strategies on Member of Local Legislative Council in Sukabumi City, West Java Province, Indonesia."

I hope this article can be published in the Academy of Strategic Management Journal because there are interesting findings in the scientific article that can become new treasures, especially in management science.

I am willing to go through the review process following the Academy of Strategic Management Journal standards.

Best Regards,

Munandi Saleh

The Academy of Strategic Management Journal values your contribution, and I look forward to receiving your revised manuscript.

Editor and Reviewer comments:

Reviewer #1:

1. Clarify the Research Objectives: The abstract provides a brief overview of the research topic and the aim to increase the capacity of DPRD members in Sukabumi City. However, it would be beneficial to clearly state the specific objectives of the study. What aspects of capacity need improvement? What are the desired outcomes? This will help readers understand the research focus more effectively.
2. Provide Theoretical Framework: While the abstract mentions the capacity theory proposed by Grindel and the strategy theory proposed by Osborne and Plastrik, it would be helpful to briefly explain these theories or provide references for readers to understand the theoretical underpinnings of the study. This will enhance the scholarly value of the research.
3. Elaborate on Research Methods: The abstract mentions that the descriptive analysis method with a case study approach was used, along with various data collection techniques. Consider providing more details about the specific research methods employed, such as the number of participants, the criteria for selection, and the data analysis techniques. This will strengthen the rigor and transparency of the study.
4. Expand on Key Findings: The abstract briefly mentions that the capacity of DPRD members in Sukabumi City is weak and highlights the need for strategies to improve it. It would be beneficial to provide more specific findings from the research, such as the main challenges faced by DPRD members and the recommended strategies to enhance their capacity. This will provide readers with a clearer understanding of the study's outcomes.
5. Add Practical Implications: Consider including a section in the abstract or conclusion that discusses the practical implications of the research findings. How can the strategies for capacity building benefit the DPRD members in Sukabumi City? How might these findings contribute to the broader field of legislative capacity building? This will help readers understand the significance and applicability of the study.

I hope you can make improvements as soon as possible and send the revised article again via this email.

Dear
Munandi Saleh, et al.
Universitas Pasundan

Thank you for your efforts to make improvements to your article.
Based on the Reviewers' considerations, the article has, at some point, increased.
However, you have to improve on a few more points. Hopefully, you are willing to do it.

Please follow the following revision instructions:

#Reviewer 2:

1. Provide a Clear Definition of Capacity Building: It would be beneficial to provide a concise and precise definition of capacity building in the introduction or theoretical framework section. Clarify how capacity building is understood within the context of the study and how it relates to the specific roles and responsibilities of DPRD members. This will help readers grasp the concept more effectively.
2. Incorporate Empirical Evidence: To further strengthen the research, consider including empirical evidence or case studies from other regions or countries where capacity building strategies have been implemented successfully in legislative councils. This will provide comparative insights and support the recommendations for enhancing the capacity of DPRD members in Sukabumi City.
3. Expand the Literature Review: While the abstract briefly mentions the capacity theory proposed by Grindel and the strategy theory proposed by Osborne and Plastrik, it would be valuable to provide a more comprehensive literature review on capacity building strategies for legislative members. Include studies, theories, and best practices related to capacity building in similar contexts or fields. This will enrich the scholarly background of the study.
4. Discuss Potential Challenges and Limitations: Addressing the potential challenges and limitations of implementing capacity building strategies is crucial for a well-rounded research paper. Consider dedicating a section to discussing the constraints and obstacles that may arise during the implementation process, along with suggestions for mitigating these challenges. This will demonstrate a realistic understanding of the practical implications of the study.
5. Suggest Areas for Further Research: Conclude the article by suggesting potential areas for future research related to capacity building for legislative members. Highlight specific aspects or dimensions that could be explored to expand the current knowledge base. This will encourage further academic discourse and contribute to the ongoing development of capacity building strategies in the field.

Articles that have been revised and please send them back via this email.
