ABSTRACT

A saga is a story that has existed for a long time, then developed among the people and is part of the rich history and culture of each region and then developed over time. In this section the author conducts research on identifying the values and messages contained in the saga "Bunga Kemuning". This research uses the Self Directed Learning method, namely a method that focuses on students being more active and learning independently under the supervision of educators. Below the author poses several problems (1) What is the author's ability to plan, implement and assess learning to identify the values and messages of the saga "Bunga Kemuning" using the Self Directed Learning method for class X students at SMA Pasundan 8 Bandung?; (2) What is the ability of class (3) Is there a difference in effectiveness between learning to identify the values and messages of the "Bunga Kemuning" saga using the Self Directed Learning method for class X students at SMA Pasundan 8 Bandung as an experimental class and a control class using conventional methods?; This research is quantitative research, which uses data sources from the experimental class and control class.
