ABSTRACT

This research aims to find out the language disorders contained in Karni Ilyas' utterances in the Indonesia Lawyers Club (ILC) episode "The Coalition is Getting Confusing, Who is the Real "King Maker"?. The results of this analysis are utilized as alternative teaching materials for students in grade IX of junior high school. This research is a descriptive qualitative research that has results in the form of narrative sentences. The data sources in this analysis are videos of the Indonesia Lawyers Club (ILC) program and several other sources related to the research. This research was conducted using listening and note-taking techniques. In general, the results of the analysis of language disorders contain one type of language disorder, namely speech disorders which have two types, namely speech mechanism disorders due to pulmonary factors and speech mechanism disorders due to laryngeal factors. In detail, there are 19 sentences containing speech mechanism disorders due to pulmonary factors and 23 sentences containing speech mechanism disorders due to laryngeal factors. Furthermore, the results of this analysis are adjusted to the demands of the 2013 curriculum which contains Basic Competencies. In addition, the results of this analysis are also adjusted to the criteria of teaching materials that are assessed based on content aspects, linguistic aspects, and presentation aspects. Then, the results of the analysis are used as learning tools in the form of teaching modules that can be used by students in grade IX of junior high school.
