Title and Abstract

Title	Legal Protection for Victims of Sexual Harassment by the Sexual Violence Prevention and Handling Unit at the Indonesian University of Education
Abstract	Sexual harassment in higher education is a severe concern in various countries. The Sexual Violence Prevention and Handling Unit (SP2KS) in higher education has a crucial role in providing legal protection for victims of sexual harassment. This study aims to investigate the role of SP2KS in providing legal protection to victims of sexual harassment in higher education. This research method involves document analysis, interviews, and case studies of sexual harassment cases handled by SP2KS. The research results show that SP2KS has a significant role in providing legal protection for victims of sexual harassment. Through prevention activities, education, training, and case-handling processes, SP2KS can provide holistic support for victims. The legal steps taken by SP2KS include defending victims, supporting the legal process, and providing necessary resources for victims. The conclusion of this study is the need for an active role from SP2KS in protecting victims of sexual harassment in higher education. Collaborative efforts are needed between SP2KS, authorities, and the entire higher education community to create a safe and supportive environment for all community members. Further research could focus on evaluating the effectiveness of the steps taken by SP2KS in protecting victims of sexual harassment
